Good Investment

Investing for the future is certainly not a new concept in this day of mutual funds, IRAs and retirement plans. Investing in the future, however, takes on a greater significance.

When people invest in forest land with the goal of keeping it in forest land, they are making an investment that will not only benefit their future and that of their families, their investment will also benefit everyone who lives, works and enjoys the benefits of forests – in other words, everyone.

By investing in a TFA Life Membership, you will not only benefit yourself, you will leave a lasting legacy in support of the future of forestry. Life Member funds are placed in an endowment with only the interest used to support TFA programs.

- Life Members are recognized on the Life Member Plaque located in the TFA board room.
